

WILSON CHOSEN ON FIRST BALLOT

Princeton President to Head Ticket For New Jersey Democrats

HAD 40 MORE VOTES THAN NEEDED

Independents and Regulars United in His Support—Complimentary Vote to F. S. Katzenbach, Jr.—Nominee's Speech Pleases the Convention—Control of Corporations, Economy and Tax Equalization the Keynotes—Deprecates Playing Politics.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 15.—Today's New Jersey democratic state convention nominated Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton university, for the office of governor of the state. Dr. Wilson's nomination was brought about largely through the influence of ex-United States Senator James Smith, Jr., of Essex county, who is undisputed democratic leader of the state, and Robert L. Davis, leader of the Hudson county democratic party, who for the first time in many years acted in harmony with Mr. Smith. Besides the support Dr. Wilson had with him a number of independent democrats who believed that because of his standing as a publicist he would make an unusually strong candidate.

Reform Measures in Platform.
Dr. Wilson was nominated on the first ballot and received forty more votes than was necessary to nominate him. Francis S. Katzenbach, Jr., who was the democratic candidate three years ago, and who was not a candidate this time, although urged by his home county, was a favorite with individual delegates and received nearly 500 votes in the convention. The platform adopted was one of the most comprehensive in the history of the party, except that it was more specific in advocacy of reform measures, including conferring rate making powers upon the present public utilities commission.

Dr. Wilson, after his nomination, came before the convention, accepted the nomination, and made an address which was highly pleasing to the delegates.

Undaunted by his narrow escape, Hamilton announced that he will attempt the journey within ten days if proper inducements are offered. "I have an offer of $5,000 to make the round trip," he said, "but the danger is too great to do it for that amount. If the $10,000 offer is doubled, I will accept, and let the conditions be no flight on purpose; or if the $5,000 purse will be hung up for a straight flight from here to San Francisco I will accept on the same conditions."

Friends of Miss Taft say that her own inclinations lead her to continue her studies, and that she had expressed eagerness to return this year and complete her term.

BETTER TAXATION METHODS.

Referring to taxation, Dr. Wilson said:

"Our system of taxation is ill-digested, inequitable, and wasteful. This system should not be changed too radically, but the whole system should be carefully reconsidered and altered in such a manner as to give economic conditions."

ON CONTROL OF CORPORATIONS.

Discussing the question of corporations, the speaker said:

"Corporations should not be favored in the matter of taxation. The power to regulate taxation and fix rates should be vested in a public utility commission. The regulation of corporations is more the duty of the state than of the federal government."

In concluding his speech, Dr. Wilson said:

"The playing of politics is to be deprecated. We must have a government that is not subject to the whims of party, but that is the best of our conditions should be conceived in the largest spirit and urged by statesmen and not demagogues."

CARBOLIC ACID AND REVOLVER USED BY SUICIDE.

Westport, Conn., Sept. 15.—Thomas Pearson, aged 28 years, employed by Arnold Schiela of this town as coachman, committed suicide in his room on the Schiela premises some time last night. The dead man evidently drank carbolie acid, and, suffering terrible agony from it, hastened death by the use of a .38 caliber revolver.

Pearson is thought to have been despondent because of a robbery of silverware from the Schiela home. Suspicion of the crime was aroused, and it is thought that this, together with the fact that the mystery has not as yet been cleared up, although the silverware has been recovered, caused him to become despondent and end his life.

Pearson had been a resident of Westport for several years, during which time he has been employed at several residences as coachman. He entered Mr. Schiela's employ about a year ago.

"Apart from the apathy occasioned by these things I am not disturbed and in no way apprehensive. Crops here are good and activity in business must revive."

NO REVOLUTION IN NEW CREED, SAYS ROOSEVELT.

Address at Suffolk County Fair—Applying Old Moralities to Modern Conditions—Condemns Bosses.

NO MOB RULE APPEAL

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt said today that there is no revolution in declaring his new political creed, which is making an appeal to mob rule. In a staunch defense of his doctrine of the "new nationalism" he asserted that he was merely urging the application of old moralities to modern conditions.

At the same time he answered with spirit those who have accused him of being a "new nationalist" and of attacking honest public men. He said that he was not attacking honest public men, but that he was attacking the bosses who control the government.

Colonel Roosevelt's address was delivered at the Suffolk county fair at Riverhead on the eastern end of Long Island.

"I have noticed a good deal of comment on my speech on new nationalism," he said. "All that new nationalism is, is the application of certain old time moralities to the changed conditions of the day."

"I would not do any wrong to the great corporation, but I do intend to rely only on the big corporation's good-nature to see that the corporation does not do harm against us."

Against Lawless Violence.

"That is my whole creed. That is what there is in it. There is no revolution in it. There is no appeal to mob rule. On the contrary, I recognize mob violence as an enemy of the public good."

"I am against the poor man who is guilty of the crime of lawless violence, and when I am in my power, I shall try to punish him for his misdeeds. I am against the poor man who is guilty of the crime of lawless violence, and when I am in my power, I shall try to punish him for his misdeeds."

ILLINOIS PROGRESSIVES MAY DEFEAT FOSS.

Close Struggle in Illinois Primaries—Speaker Cannon Sweeps Counties.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—At this hour the indications are that Congressman C. E. Foss, after many years in congress, during which time he became a strong supporter of the Republican party, may be defeated by George P. England, progressive. Returns from 104 precincts out of 147 in the Tenth district show England 3,132 against 2,786 for Foss.

Speaker Cannon carried every county in the Tenth district except two. Two years ago the speaker was unopposed, so a comparison of his plurality today with the figures at the previous election are valueless.

THREE INJURED

Chicago Man Thrown Off on Curve and Seriously Hurt—Front and Rear Brakes Both Useless.

Hartford, Sept. 15.—In a collision between two trolley cars here tonight, Sarah T. Pughman of Chicago was thrown from a car sustaining a fractured skull, a broken collarbone and probably internal injuries. Charles Champion, a passenger, was cut about the face and head, as was Motorman Abraham Stokes.

Stokes attempted to apply the brakes at the top of Asylum avenue hill, they refused to work and the car ran down the hill at high speed. An attempt to apply the brakes at the rear of the car disclosed the fact that the brake system was broken and the brake wheels were useless.

In rounding a short curve at Ford street, Pughman, who came here from Chicago to attend the funeral of a relative, was thrown from the car sustaining injuries to his skull and shoulder. Champion and Stokes were thrown by the impact of the cars, receiving cuts and bruises about the head and face. The injured were taken to St. Francis hospital.

The motorman Stokes stated after the accident that before leaving the car he had reported that the brakes were not in working order. There were seven passengers on the Asylum avenue car, besides those injured, who escaped with a shaking up, a similar fate befell the passengers of the West Hartford car.
